OPPORTUNITY: WITH STILL LOW TO NEGATIVE YIELDS IN EUROPE, INVESTORS ARE INCREASINGLY LOOKING ABROAD FOR SOLUTIONS

The US agency Mortgage-Backed Securities (MBS) market is a high credit quality asset class with a low correlation to traditional Global and European markets. It offers an attractive risk-return profile in the world's second most liquid fixed income market after US Treasuries. Agency MBS have an implicit or explicit government guarantee from the US government as they are issued by government-sponsored enterprises. Therefore US Treasuries and agency MBS have the same credit rating (AAA Moody's and Fitch, AA+ S&P). There has never been a default in the agency MBS asset class, including in 2008.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this Product compared to other Products. It shows how likely it is that the Product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this Product as 3 out of 7, which is a medium-low risk class.

Be aware of currency risk. If the currency of your account is different from the currency of this Product, the payments you will get depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

Other risks materially relevant to the Product not included in the summary risk indicator:

- Credit Risk: This risk relates to the ability of an issuer to honour its commitments: downgrades of an issue or issuer rating may lead to a drop in the value of associated bonds.
- Liquidity Risk: This risk arises from the difficulty of selling an asset at a fair market price and at a desired time due to lack of buyers.
- Operational and Custody Risk: Some markets are less regulated than most of the international markets; hence, the services related to custody and liquidation for the subfund on such markets could be more risky.

For additional details regarding the risks, please refer to the prospectus.

GLOSSARY

Ex-post Tracking Error

The tracking error measures the volatility of a portfolio's relative return in relation to its benchmark index.

Information Ratio

The information ratio is a risk-adjusted return that measures the relationship between the portfolio's tracking error and its relative return compared with the benchmark index (called active return).

Modified Duration

A measure of a bond's sensitivity to changes in interest rates. The longer the remaining term to maturity, the more bond prices react to a change in interest rates, and the higher the duration. The rule is that if the yield rises or falls by 1%, the value of the bond will fluctuate by 1% x duration.

Sharpe Ratio

A measure for calculating risk-adjusted return. It indicates the return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of risk. It is calculated by dividing the difference between the return and the risk-free rate by the standard deviation of the return on the investment. The Sharpe ratio indicates whether the excess return was obtained thanks to good investment management or by taking additional risk. The higher the ratio, the better the risk-adjusted return.

Volatility

An asset's volatility is the standard deviation of its return. As a measure of dispersion, it evaluates the uncertainty of asset prices, which is often equated to their risk. Volatility can be calculated ex post (retrospectively) or estimated ex ante (anticipatively).

YTM (Yield to Maturity)

A yield calculation that takes into account the relationship between a security's maturity value, time to maturity, current price, and coupon yield.

Arithmetic Mean Rating

Weighted average of rating values from the agencies Fitch, Moody's and Morningstar present in the fund.
